MAYOR DECLINES TO PRESENT CAPTAIN WISE

"For Personal Reasons" Captain McCarthy Will Not Accept Invitation.

Mayor McCarthy positively declines to introduce Captain John S. Wise, who lectures at the Academy of Music February 28th, under the auspices of the Daughters of the Revolution. This information in some way leaked out yesterday in the form of a rumor. When a newspaper representative went to Mayor McCarthy to inquire as to the accuracy of the report, the Mayor deprecated any mention of the matter, but frankly stated his position. He had been called over the telephone, he said, by Mr. Henry A. Atkinson, who proffered the invitation for the Daughters of the Revolution. The Mayor introduced Captain John S. THE INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY-SCHOOL LESSON

Studies in the New Testament.

SUBJECT: The Second Miracle in Cana.—John iv: 43-54. GOLDEN TEXT: The same works that I do, bear witness of Me that the Father hath sent Me.—John v: 36. BY REV. J. E. GILBERT, D. D., Secretary American Society of Religious Education.

INTRODUCTION.—In the time of Christ the Holy Land formed part of the Roman Empire. The territory lying west of the Jordan was divided into three districts or provinces—Judea on the south, Galilee on the north, and Samaria in the middle. The Jews adhered most to the institutions of Moses, as interpreted by the Pharisees, and esteemed themselves as superior to their neighbors. The Galileans were greatly influenced by the Samaritans, and the Samaritans were depressed through the mixture of races and the lack of high incentives. Our Lord found in this area a people of simple faith, avoiding in this way complications and misunderstandings which might have hindered His mission. His lesson today represents an incident connected with one of those journeys.

RECAPITULATING.—After the woman had prepared the way, as shown last week, Jesus remained two days in Sychar, evening and night, and on the morning he believed in Him (verse 28-30). He then resumed His travels northward (verse 31), accompanied by a apostle. He did not go to Cana (Luke 10:1), but to a village in His pathway, and there He might ordinarily find things of interest, especially in the case of a Samaritan. He passed on into the heart of Galilee. It appears that the property of visiting the scenes of the Lord's life was a great attraction. He considered, although no mention of the conversation is made in the narrative, that He would like to see the place where He was afterwards displayed (John 1:16), and did not care at that time to encounter the opposition which was certain to arise. He explained by saying to His disciples that a prophet had no honor in his own country (verse 44). He exhorted them to see the things which were written in the Law of Moses.

RECEIVING.—As Jesus moved on further north in Galilee He found the people of the country in a state of excitement. Many of them had been at the feast at Jerusalem (John 11:30), in obedience to the command given by the Lord. They were glad to see Him, and they were glad to see Him. They were glad to see Him, and they were glad to see Him. They were glad to see Him, and they were glad to see Him.

CARTING SNOW AND SLUSH TO THE RIVER

Superintendent Cohn Alone Knows Where He Shows of Yesterday.

Fair and colder is the weather programme for today with the same forecast for Saturday. Where are the snows of yesterday? Only Superintendent Cohn, of the street cleaning force, can answer the question, for all day long on yesterday his force carted the snow and slush to some retired spot out of the way. The slush was something awful, and the rubber merchant scraped a rich and necessary harvest. Mr. Evans says the ice, like the Indian, is bound to go, and the river will in a few days be clear of its snow. Only three stations in the country report zero or less than zero weather. Havre is 14 degrees below zero, Bismarck is 8 degrees below and Lander is zero. Jupiter and Key West both report 70 degrees.

Rains are general over the entire country, with the exception of the Rocky Mountain plateau. The heaviest rain fell yesterday at Knoxville, Tenn., 1.42 inches. Several stations in the South failed to report to the Weather Bureau on account of the heavy rain. The weather was reported as being cloudy, with no rain. FROM GAY NEW YORK TO THE WINDY CITY Alleged "Bluebeard" Leaves Gotham in the Very Best of Humor.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—To face charges of homicide and bigamy Johann Hock, the Chicago "Bluebeard," who is said to have had between forty and fifty wives, counting the dead as well as the living, began his journey from this city to Chicago yesterday. He did not seem worried by the sinister accusations against him. His good humor reached its height after he had boarded the train in Hoboken, when an unknown young woman gave him a bunch of violets. He gallantly pinned them to the lapel of his coat.

While Dr. Joseph Springer, a former coroner's physician, was in Chicago advancing the theory that the death of Hock's wives was due to the use of a drug (the subtle and deadly poison used by South American Indians to tip their arrows and kill enemies and guard their territory), he was in Chicago advancing the theory that the death of Hock's wives was due to the use of a drug (the subtle and deadly poison used by South American Indians to tip their arrows and kill enemies and guard their territory).
